The AUDITOR OF OHIO says in his report of 1870: "The day has some by for doing an insurance business on credit. To obtain business a company must have a large, solid, cash capital.

I repeat my salvice of last year, that small Companies by two or three had better amalgaments, consolidate, or sell out. There is less prospect of success for small and weak Companies each succeeding year.

BE IT ENOW, that there is at this date a little Ohio Company, having a net capital of about $20,000 and risks to the amount of $60,000.00. Thus it appears that if it should loose $1.00 in every $210,000 at risk, it would take its office furnature even to pay he has lies.

The name of one or cach of the Companies represented at this agence, is a household $1,000 to every $10,00 at risk, it would take its office furnature even to pay the last loss.

The name of one or each of the Companies represented at this Agency, is a household word, having been familiar to boys who are now old men. Their wast experience is itself a tower of strength which should inspire the greatest confidence. Ness, carefully written colletes of either of the above named Companies, may be had at this Agency, and on terms as favorable as any responsible Company can offer. All kinds of property are said insured, but especial attention is given to the insurance of Dwellings, and Farm Property, Schools, Churches, and Fublic Sulldings, for terms of three and five years.
